AnadoluJet starts the new flight connection between Milan Bergamo and Istanbul Sabiha Gokcen

AnadoluJet, a trademark of Turkish Airlines, starts today 2022 May 16th the new route between Milan Bergamo and Istanbul Sabiha Gokcen. The arrival of the first flight at 11:45 am, operated with a Boeing 737-800 aircraft, was greeted by the traditional water cannon salute of the Orio al Serio Fire Brigade.

Scheduled in a daily basis, the new route provides a direct access to the city of Istanbul and it offers the opportunity to connect with the Turkish domestic and international network of AnadoluJet and Turkish Airlines, including Baku, Tbilisi, Tehran, Baghdad, Dubai, Bahrain, Damman, Jeddah, Kuwait and Tel Aviv.

"The opening of the new AnadoluJet flight to Sabiha Gokcen airport will further expand the network of destinations accessible through this airport for those passengers departing from Milan Bergamo - commented Giacomo Cattaneo, Commercial Aviation Director of SACBO. This new flight will offer new and further options not only to reach the city of Istanbul but also a number of destinations both Turkish domestic and in Middle East and the Persian Gulf, allowing Milan Bergamo to be part of the wide network of AnadoluJet and Turkish Airlines, the carrier which fly to 128 countries in the world. We are glad to start this new partnership which offers new travel opportunities and connection options for all passengers departing and arriving at Milan Bergamo".

Ticket can be purchased both on AnadoluJet's website (www.anadolujet.com) and Turkish Airlines' website (www.turkishairlines.com). All AnadoluJet flights allow to earn miles on Turkish Airlines loyalty program (Miles & Smiles). Miles & Smiles holders can also earn miles with Star Alliance partner airlines, of which Turkish Airlines is a member.
