

PRESS RELEASE

A NEW PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN MILANBERGAMOairport.IT AND AMAZON.IT

Amazon, the largest retail company in the world, is making its appearance on the homepage of the Milan Bergamo Airport website (www.milanbergamoairport.it), at the foot of the menu dedicated to services that can be purchased. A partnership that begins in the week dedicated to Black Friday, and promises to offer further advantages to travellers and those consulting the airport's official website to access the various kinds of service, including parking reservations and the purchasing of access to fast track and the VIP lounge.

With a simple click, the visitor is offered a presentation of the best offers of the day from Amazon.it. The direct link is a further aid to viewing the page which summarises the discounts, and choosing the category of interest.

The collaboration set up between Milan Bergamo Airport and Amazon.it joins those already active, including Interflora's international home delivery service for flowers, offering a discount of 10% for those booking via the website milanbergamoairport.it.
