

RYANAIR LAUNCHES NEW MILAN BERGAMO - TBILISI, GEORGIA ROUTE

Today (21 August), Ryanair, the No.1 company in Italy and Europe, announced a new route that will link Milan Bergamo to Tbilisi, Georgia, with 4 flights per week from November 2019, as part of the winter 2019 scheduling from Milan Bergamo.

Ryanair will cover 80 routes in total from Milan Bergamo during winter 2019, 10 of which are new winter destinations: Agadir (twice-weekly), Bremen (twice-weekly), Gothenburg (twice-weekly), Katowice (twice-weekly), Lappeenranta (twice-weekly), London Southend (3 flights per week), Marseilles (4 flights per week), Santander (twice-weekly), Sofia (daily) and, of course, Tbilisi (4 flights per week), which will see over 11.1 million passengers pass through the Milan Bergamo airport this year.

To celebrate this new route from Milan Bergamo, Ryanair has launched a special offer on its European network starting at just 9.99 euros for travel in November and December, valid for bookings made before midnight on Friday (23 August) only on the Ryanair website.

Chiara Ravara of Ryanair has declared:

“Ryanair is pleased to announce the new route that will link Milan Bergamo to Tbilisi, Georgia with 4 flights per week from November 2019, as part of our 2019 winter schedule. Travellers departing from Milan Bergamo can now book a flight to Kutaisi until March 2020.

To celebrate, we have launched a special offer on its European network starting at just 9.99 euros for travel in November and December, valid for bookings made before midnight on Friday (23 August). As these incredible prices go quickly, we invite our customers to visit www.ryanair.com in order to not miss out on the opportunity”.
