WIZZ AIR ANNOUNCES NEW FLIGHT TO PODGORICA (MONTENEGRO), THE EIGHTEENTH ROUTE OPERATED FROM MILAN BERGAMO AIRPORT

Wizz Air has announced the opening of the route between Milan Bergamo and Podgorica, in Montenegro, which will be active from 20th August 2016, running twice a week (on Tuesdays and Saturdays). The scheduled departure time is at 07:45 from Milan Bergamo, with arrival at its destination at 09:25 local time, while the flight from Podgorica takes off at 09:55 and arrives at Milan Bergamo at 11:35.

With the opening of the connection with Podgorica, Wizz Air is strengthening its position as the second carrier operating at Milan Bergamo Airport with 18 routes. At the same time as announcing the new route, Wizz Air has launched rates starting from 24.99 euros.

Montenegro is the 39th country in which Wizz Air operates its flights. Podgorica, situated on the banks of six rivers and descending from the Illyrian and Roman city of Birziminium, is the metropolitan and administrative centre of Montenegro. Podgorica old town is built on the settlement of Varos, and is dominated by the stone Sat-kula (clock tower) which works as a lighthouse and is one of the landmarks in the city.

Podgorica is situated 100 kilometres from the famous coastal resorts and the prestigious winter tourist area, Bjelasica. With just a two-hour drive, you can go from water skiing to skiing on snow. Not far from the city you can find the Skadar Lake and the sunny valley of Zetska.
