APPRECIATION FROM SACBO FOR EMILIO ZANETTI AND CESARE ZONCA

Emilio Zanetti and Cesare Zonca have been directors of SACBO for decades, making a considerable contribution to the economic solidity of the company managing Bergamo Airport and to the decisions which led to the taking off of the airport in terms of passenger flow, the number of direct and indirect employees, and its importance within the panorama of national and European air transportation, also concerning the maintaining of its role as logistic hub for freight couriers.

In view of the ordinary assembly of SACBO partners, called in order to renew the corporate bodies, and the terms of the respective decades-long mandates as directors, for both Cesare Zonca and Emilio Zanetti (who has held the role of vice-president since 2008), the corporate leadership team, representatives of the shareholders, directors and auditors, together with the management team and a representation of SACBO staff all met to celebrate their unanimous and heart-felt appreciation for the two men who have played a lead role in the history of Bergamo Airport.

The generous commitment and the importance of the contribution made by Emilio Zanetti and Cesare Zonca were underlined, particularly with regards to the years leading up to the turning point marked by the arrival and establishment of low-cost air travel, allowing the group of Bergamo shareholders to remain solidly united and creating the conditions to be able to respond to the growing demand for air mobility, as well as supporting the stages of upgrading of the infrastructure in order to guarantee the best possible level of quality for services offered to users. Emilio Zanetti and Cesare Zonca, in return, highlighted the professionalism which, on various levels and in various roles, guarantees operativeness and good management, the true asset of Bergamo Airport.
